The screenshot shows the 'jmlvillas' website administration interface. At the top, there is a navigation menu with links: Home, Administration Home, Villa List, Owners List, Edit Pages, and Edit Images. Below the navigation is a 'Preview' button, a 'Submit' button, and a 'Close' button. The main content area is titled 'Images' and contains a table with the following columns: 'Image Description', 'Image', 'Front Page?', and 'Del?'. The table has two rows of data. The first row shows an image of a villa exterior with a large tree, and the 'Front Page?' column has a radio button selected. The second row shows an image of a villa interior, and the 'Front Page?' column has a radio button unselected. The 'Del?' column for both rows has a checkbox.
